

Flexible Benefits

Your Flexible Benefit Plan Can Save You Hundreds of Dollars Each Year!

Flexible Spending Accounts are a great way for you to save money on your out-of-pocket health and dependent care expenses. When you sign up for the Flexible Spending Accounts, your contributions are taken from your paycheck before taxes are calculated. This saves you money and makes budgeting easier.

Two ways to save:

You can tailor your Flexible Spending Accounts to fit your personal needs. There are two ways to save:

The Health Care Spending Account

lets you use tax-free money for out-of-pocket medical, dental, vision, prescription drug, and other expenses related to you and your dependents' health care.

The Dependent Care Spending Account

lets you use tax-free money to pay for dependent child or elder day care. If you take an income tax exemption for the dependent and have expenses related to their day care, you can use this account to save money. If you are single or married and filing jointly, you can set aside up to $5,000 per year, for one or more dependents (if you are married filing separately, the limit is $2,500).

Things to Consider Before Enrolling

Because Flexible Spending Accounts (FSAs) are governed by Section 125 of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) code, there are specific rules and regulations that affect the way they operate.

- Elections must be made in advance. You must decide before the beginning of the plan year how much you want to contribute to your health and dependent care spending accounts.
- You can only change your election under limited circumstances. Once you have made your election for the year, you can change it if you have a change in family status. These include marriage, divorce, birth or death of a dependent, a spouse losing a job or starting a new one, or a qualified leave under the Plan. The change in your election must coincide with the event.
- You need to budget carefully. The IRS mandates that any money left in your account at the end of the plan year cannot be recovered. You will, however, have a run-out period after the end of the plan year to get reimbursed for any expenses you incurred during the plan year.
- Money from one account can't be used for the other account's expenses. Health care account money can only be used for health care expenses, and dependent care account money can only be used for dependent day care expenses.

How the Plan Works

The FSA plan has five easy steps:

1. Make your health and/or dependent care account elections at the beginning of the plan year.
2. Incur your health and/or dependent care expenses during the plan year.
3. Retain receipts and the necessary documentation to support your claim.
4. Submit your claim and backup documentation to TRI-AD.
5. TRI-AD reimburses you.

Filing a Claim is as Easy as 1-2-3

1. Log into your account and enter your claim:

Log into your FSA account at www.tri-ad.com/fsa and select the Claims Center. Then click the link to file a claim and provide your claim information online.

2. Provide the supporting documentation:

IRS rules say that your documentation must show:

- The date the service was incurred (not the date you paid the bill)
- The service provider's name
- To whom the service was provided
- The charges or out-of-pocket expense
- A clear and detailed service description

Acceptable documentation:

Examples of acceptable documentation are insurance company Explanation of Benefit forms (EOBs), receipts showing the above information, and "bag tags" for prescriptions.

Unacceptable documentation:

Bank card statements, insurance company claim forms, canceled checks, estimates of expenses and balance forward statements are not valid documentation.

3. Upload your documentation:

After you provide your basic claim information, you can upload your documentation at that time right to TRI-AD's site, and attach it to your claim as part of filing the claim. If you don't have a scanner, you can print off a special cover sheet and fax it with your documentation to TRI-AD as instructed on the cover sheet.
